

Three antique pistols are displayed horizontally on a white surface. The top pistol is a Pedersoli percussion pistol with a dark, ornate frame and a long barrel. The middle pistol is a Thompson Center, featuring a reddish-brown frame and a long, dark barrel. The bottom pistol is a Hawkens, with a reddish-brown frame and a long, dark barrel. Each pistol has a white label with its name and caliber. In the background, there is a green book with the word 'Percussion' visible and a document with German text.

Pedersoli cal. 44

Tompson Center cal. 45

Hawkens cal. 45

Verkauf gegen
Angebot!

Fritz Groos

groos-friedrich@t-online.de